Imagining a Better World: The Artwork of Nelly Toll

On exhibit March 8 - May 18, 2014

FREE exhibit opening Saturday, March 8 from 7:00-9:00pm

Nelly Toll was a child living in Poland when forced into hiding from the Nazis during World War II. She dared to dream, imagining a better world that manifested in her creation of nearly 60 watercolor paintings. Journey through her imagery of hope and imagination while viewing the most complete assembly of her original artwork.

Youtube has a FREE video editor!

The screenshot displays the YouTube video editor interface. At the top left is the YouTube logo. A search bar is positioned to the right of the logo. In the top right corner, there are buttons for 'Upload', a settings gear, and a notification bell with a '2' badge. The user's name 'MassillonMuseum' is visible next to the notification bell. Below the top navigation bar, there is a breadcrumb trail showing 'Project' > 'My Edited Video' and a status message 'All changes saved.' A blue 'Publish' button is located on the right side of this bar. The main editing area is divided into two sections. On the left is a large black video preview window. To its right is a toolbar with icons for video, closed captions (CC), photo, music, and a play button. Below the toolbar is a search bar labeled 'Search videos'. Underneath the search bar is a grid of video thumbnails with their titles and durations. The thumbnails include: 'One-Act Play: "...' (15:20), 'Inside Look at ...' (2:20), 'SNAP! In the Ph...' (0:31), 'Massillon Muse...' (20:00), 'A Thrill A Secon...' (2:49), 'Legacy of Steel...' (26:10), 'Films of Charle...' (35:02), 'Massillon Muse...' (3:07), 'Skating on the ...' At the bottom left of the editing area, there are two dashed boxes: one for video with the text 'Drag videos here' and one for audio with the text 'Drag audio here'. A vertical timeline on the left shows a blue bar at the 0:00 mark. At the bottom right, there is a search icon and a volume slider.

 Christina Paunier You can tell I do not have children. I thought most of these were pretty funny. Especially the one where the teacher was providing incorrect information and the student protest the teacher was lying to the class lol

 Colleen Cook I do have children and I was in tears laughing. I would not be able to punish my kid for any of these things.

 Shen Lee I was a public school teacher and I didn't find this funny. When you are trying to manage 20+ kids at a time all day long, things like this can run a period. Especially the ones where the student did something violent, like throwing things or threatening another student.

How will Youtube work for you?

- What upcoming exhibits or events do you have?
- Can you film a preview of them?
- What staff member would be the best to interview about the exhibit/event?
- Does your staff have the knowledge to post videos? If not, do you have knowledgeable interns?
- What equipment would you need to buy?
- How often would you post videos?
